

XI INTERNATIONAL MEETING OF
YOUNG ONCOLOGIST CLUB

Precision Medicine - the Key to Success in Cancer Therapy

Hyatt Regency Pravets, May 17-19, 2024

Dear friends and colleagues,

The Young Oncologist Club invites you to the XI International Meeting to be held on 17-19 May 2024 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel Pravets. The topic of the event is "Precision Medicine - the Key to Success in Cancer Therapy".

Personalized medicine is the most effective modern cancer treatment, with which we put the key in the lock and stop the tumor activation process.

Knowing more about malignancy, being able to do more, we want to apply this knowledge to our practice. Treatment requires dedication, logistics, sharing and personal skill development in addition to knowledge.

Bulgarian and international specialists in medical oncology, radiotherapy, nuclear medicine, surgery, and gastroenterology will discuss the importance of molecular biology in the diagnosis, treatment and prevention of all types of cancer.

The program focuses on the treatment of lung cancer, breast cancer, malignant melanoma, colon cancer, prostate cancer, and others.

A poster session featuring young fellows up to 45 years of age with awards for the top three posters will be held, as well as interactive sessions to discuss clinical cases will be presented.

3 workshops - on lung cancer diagnosis, on HER2-positivity breast cancer diagnosis, and on overcoming stress in daily work with oncology patients will be organized.

All topics will be presented in English. You can register at www.youngoncologistbg.com.

We look forward to you sharing your experiences and ideas for the modern treatment of cancer patients.

Dr. Rossitza Krasteva
President of Young Oncologist Club
